Fast Pout Before New York Sports-Dorando Beats

Hayes in Fast Marathon—I rolley League has Baseball falk Started.

New York Jan. 31.—Before one of the biggest fight crowds that has turned out in New York this season, Leadh Cross, the local lightweight, earned a decision over Frankie Madden, another New York lightweight, in a fast ten round bout before the Bedford A. C. in Brooklyn tonight. Cross had the better of the argument in nearly every round. Both boys finished strong.

Most of Madden's blows fell short although once or twice he staggered Cross, but the latter recovered quickly.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Jack Johnson made two definite replies to Sam, Langford taday. He will post $10,000 now for a match after the Jeffries fight win or lose, and will in the interim back Jeannette for $2,500 against Sam.

In reply to Jim Corbett's flat foot criticism, Johnson declares that Sharkey, Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, Jackson, McAuliffe, Gans, Griffo, all the great fighters, fought flat foot. "Corbett should speak with reverence of the flat foot," said Johnson. "Flat footed boxers made him call for the police."

Beaumont to Play With Cubs. Chicago, Jan. 31.—A deal was com-pleted tonight whereby Clarence Beau-mont, formerly outfielder of the Pitts-burg team, later with the Boston Nationals, will wear the uniform of the Chicago National baseball team the coming season. that no effective stock market revival is to be looked for until this important case is finally disposed of. Minor swings in the price movement are expected in the meantime, but it is believed the main current of the market will not set in again until the court of last resort has defined what may be regarded as permissible restraint of trade within the meaning of the Sherman anti-trust law. News from Paris today pointed to the passing of the worst of the flood there, but the influence of depression in financial markets was not lightened. A sharp fall in the rate of sterling exchange in Paris gave notice of the movement of recall of credits to take up the work of repair in the French capital and renewed discussion of the extent to which that movement might go. A movement of gold from New York to Paris during February is regarded as not improbable. Not much effect on the New York money market is feared, the inflow of funds from domestic sources promising growing ease in money. Preparations money market is feared, the inflow of funds from domestic sources promising growing case in money. Preparations for the February payments made no impression on the day's money market. There was some languid discussion of the dividend action likely to be taken at the Pennsylvania meeting tomorrow, the weight of opinion being against an increase. A rise in the price of copper metal in London helped that group of industrials. The advance in Reading was unexplained by any news. Reports of wage advances on one or two of the eastern railroads were regarded as significant of the course of events. The professional limitations of the market were indicated by the sudden reversal of the day's previous laborious upward movement in the last half hour, when United States Steel and Union Pacific fell abruptly two points below the closing price of Saturday. OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR HARVARD CREW. Good Material on Hand-Entire Stu-dent Body Confident of Strong Eight.

At Harvard this year the rowing sit-Wray has a large amount of excellent material to work with and the successes of the crew in recent years on the Thames has inspired the entire squad with confidence. Roger Cutter will probably start in the season at stroke, the position he filled last year after displacing Sargent. Fritz Newton is also spoken of as a possibility for this position on account of his work with the freshman crew, but he is not so rugged as Cutter and has had less experience. Should he be used at stroke, Cutter will row No. 6, where his reach and strength are needed. Lothrop Withington is the logical man for No. 5, and Bacon, who rowed this position last fall, will probably go back to No. 4. The graduation of Faulkner, Eliot, Cutter and Lunt have left vacancles in the bow seats and these will have to be filled by new men. The most likely candidates are Sullivan Sargent, who rowed stroke in the 'varsity of 1908, and part of last year; F. H. Leslie, who rowed No. 4 in the freshman boat; Metcalf, who captained 1912 boat, and Strong and Balch, both from last year's freshman crew.

Whitney, bow, and Foster, No. 3, of last year's four oared crew, are still in college to the treshman boat; Metcalf, who captained 1912 boat, and Strong and Balch, both from last year's freshman crew.

The 1909 freshman crew was an sxtra heavy lot, and Harvard's 1910 'varsity can well afford to use some of this promising material. Certainly Coach Wray can make up a 'varsity cight now by picking four men from last year's freshman crew.

The English boat given to the 'varsity by Mrs. Robert Bacon, wife of the former secretary of state, and whose son is now a member of the 'varsity souad, will, it is expected, be ready for delivery late in February. It is fast nearing completion in the Putney yards of Sims & Sons.

COBB FANNED FOUR TIMES. Doc White Certainly Had His Alley for a Starter.

William (Ducky) Holmes, now man-iger of the Toledo club, tells the fol-owing story relating to Cobb's debut in the American league:
"I played in the first game in which Ty Cobb participated in the major leagues. It was in 1904. He had just leagues. It was in 1904. He had just joined the team and was playing center field and I was in the left garden for the White Sox. He faced Doc White, one of the best left handed pegers that ever worked in a box. Doc shot them over fast and mixed facm up. He struck Cobb out four times. After the game, while we were in the bus going back to the hotel, I said to Fielder Jones, manager of the White Fielder Jones, manager of the Whita Sox: That Cobb kid handles himserf in fine style.

""Les, he looks good, said Fleider, but he can't bat.' Everyone joined in the chorus, 'Naw, he can't bat.' It's a fact that hitters are born and not made. Some players develop with prace. made. Some players develop with practice but they have to have it in them.
You remember the White Sox were You remember the White Sox were called the hitless wonders, but they were getting the runs though they would get nosed out of many a game by about one run. 'We need ba'tlag practice,' everybody said. 'Wait until we get back to Chicago and we will practice battling all day long.' I had been hurt in Boston making a hard slide, and had been laid up for over six weeks. I was on the field and Commy came to me and told me to put on a suit and get in the game. I protested that I hadn't had any practice for weeks, but I went in just the same. Al Orth, the spitball pitcher, was twirling and he was burning them over. Of the six hits scored by the Sox that day I got a double and two triples, and I hadn't had a bat in my hand for more than six weeks."

SCOUTS SPENT $363,000. Major Leagues Will Never Put Out So Much Again for New Players.

Scouts of the major league clubs certainly worked hard last summer looking for new material for their employers. Every big team had one or more sleuths out after players, with the result that in August the sixteen major league clubs drafted and purchased from the minors 327 athletes. For these men the National and American league club owners paid, or agreed to pay, $363,000.

The sleuths picked up players in 28 minor leagues, occasionally invading the college and semi-professional ranks as well to get men who they hoped the college and semi-professional ranks as well to get men who they hoped would be of use to the big clubs.

The major league clubs never expended so much money for new material, and never will again, as from now on each team will be allowed to carry only 35 players on its payroll during the off season. The scouts in future will be more careful about the men they recommend for purchase and drafting, and hereafter will give more time to inspecting a man who, while he may be setting his league afire, may not have the necessary ability to trot

New Londoner on Long Hike.

H. E. Hyde, a New London man, started from there at 8 o'clock Monday morning on the first leg of a 1,000 mile bike. The distance is to be covered in 12 days and his route on each lap, after leaving New London Day building, will be to Salem, to Norwich, to New London, 39 miles, making the trip twice daily, if possible. He wears ordinary street clothes, with a red star on the pocket of his blouse as mark of identification.

HARNESS HORSE NOTES.

Baroness Evelyn, 2.24 1-4, the pacing three year old sister to Baroness Virginia 2.03 1-4, has been bought by London man, tarted from there at 8 o'clock Monday death of a 1,000 mile to inspecting a man who, while to inspect in a function for fully looke dover by the gumshoe artists last season, as the fact that play-ers were drafted and purchased from 28 organizations well shows.

It is supposed that one of the reasons for the indiscriminate drafting and purchasing of minor league players was that the club owners had been they would not be allowed to load up with players, and that th

The great sire, Nutwood Wilkes, 2.16 1-2, made a very large season in 1909, nearly all the mares that were bred to him either had records or were producers of note, and it is known that 88 per cent. of them are safe in foal, a most remarkable showing. New York, Jan. 31.—Extreme lassitude settled upon the stock market today, seemingly as the after effects of last week's violent excitement. The dealings fell near to the point of stagnation for a good part of the day's session. In spite of the lethargy of the demand, prices suffered little, the late selling coming after considerable gains had occurred. The professional element made one or two efforts to bring about a movement of prices, but the lack of success drove them also out of the market, and prices were allowed to drift. The professional tactics were seen in the professions of apprehension that the American Tobacco case decision would be handed down by the supreme court. The small likelihood of such action was well known to those who had taken the trouble to inform themselves, as well as the intended adjournment of the court for a three weeks' recess. This recess of the court was a factor, in fact, in holding the early stock market firm, as immunity is thas given from the weekly attack of nerves which often overcomes the stock market with each recurring Monday when an important decision is pending. There is a widespread opinion in the financial world, nevertheless, that no effective stock market revival is to be looked for until this important case is finally disposed of.
